T H E T R A V E L I N G Q U E E N S

EFFECT: A spectator chooses either a red or blue pack of cards and places it in his pocket. From the second pack he chooses a card. The cards are spread on the table. A red card is seen in the blue pack and a blue card in the red pack. One is the spectator's selected card and the other is its exact counterpart.

REQUIRED: Two unprepared packs of cards, one with blue and one with red backs.

PREPARATION: None other than to place the queen of spades from the red pack on the bottom of the blue pack and the queen of spades from the blue pack on the bottom of the red pack. Return both packs to their cases.

PRESENTATION: Place the two cases on the table. Call attention to the fact that one pack has red backs and the other blue backs. Invite a spectator to choose either pack (free choice). Let's say that he chooses the blue pack. Remove the blue cards and spread them out back up making sure that the bottom "stranger" card is not seen. Close the spread and cut the pack to bring the stranger to the center. Replace the cards in the case and ask the spectator to place the pack in his pocket. Remove the red cards and show them as all having red backs, again making certain that the stranger card is not seen. Close the spread and begin a HINDU Shuffle and invite the same spectator to say STOP. When he does so show him the bottom card, the queen of spades, and place it face up on the table. Spread the cards face up on the table and replace the selected card in the center of the spread. Close the spread and place the red cards in their case. Command the cards to travel. Remove both packs and table spread the cards. The red backed queen will be found in the blue pack and the blue backed queen in the red pack.
